Everybody admired the pancakes that Rudy the Rooster made. Animals from far away would come to taste his breakfast treat. One morning Rudy went into his kitchen to make pancakes. He got out a bowl and the ingredients. He looked for the recipe, but it was gone! "Help!" squawked Rudy. "I can't make pancakes without a recipe!" Rudy's mother heard Rudy scream. She saw his ruffled feathers in the window. She went inside to see Rudy. "Use your memory," his mother said. "How did you make the pancakes the last time?" Rudy thought and thought. Then he said, "Oh, yes! I know the recipe!" And so Rudy made a big batch of pancakes for his mother. They were very good indeed.
